Note from the President

The other day I heard a speaker warn all of us in the audience to resist becoming "pasturized"—that is, as we grow older let's not allow ourselves to be put out to pasture. Winter is a season when we are especially prone to stay at home and forego social activities. This winter, let's all agree to make time to be with friends, learning new things or being entertained. The Gathering Place and Dew Drop Inn programs are here for exactly those reasons. This holiday season let's dedicate ourselves to spending a lot of time with each other! See you at the Gathering Place or the Dew Drop Inn...

Looking for a way to get involved? The Gathering Place is seeking hosts. The main duties involve pre-meeting set-up, serving the dessert during the meeting, and post-meeting clean-up. The more volunteers, the easier the work for each one! If you are interested, please contact us at 610-952-0649; or speak to Louise Coffin, Sheila Bell, or Henry Brubaker at a Gathering Place meeting.
